

It looks to be quite a simple round of Molten Victorian Youth Championship Men when you cast your eyes quickly over the fixture, however when you dive deep into the crux of the round you will find a couple of blockbuster match-ups!

The offensive juggernaut Kilsyth Cobras play host to 10-0 Bulleen who have dodged a few bullets in their latest encounters. Could this finally be the fixture to knock them off their perch? Jamie Ahale has been in some ripping form and, with the aid of Jordan Adnam and Mitch Dielemans they have the firepower to top the Boomers. That's Saturday's primetime fixture – let's look forward to Sunday; the ever-consistent Sandringham make the trip to Melbourne where the Tigers await. Andrew Panayiotou made his return last week and will be set to re-claim chemistry ties with the likes of Bines and Kaplandjian. For the Sabres it's all about making a play – can they show their worth and keep up with the defending champs.

Hawthorn host Ringwood in the early Saturday game where last season's grand finalists seem to be struggling to find their feet in 2017. The loss of Daniel Port (knee) hasn't helped proceedings, however these are the games they must be saluting in to propel their year. McKinnon are trying to reclaim the term 'giant killers' to their resume and they have another big chance when Dandenong come to town. The Rangers have yet to fire on all cylinders offensively and this could be another shut-down performance.

Sherbrooke host Melbourne in their opening game of the round, before travelling to Knox to finish the weekend off for the division. It hasn't been the easiest of season's for the Suns so far, and they'll be looking to find some gems for the future in the likes of Mackai Holland and Sam Jones. The Raiders are flying at the moment, with some thanks to Malik Meunier.

Blackburn and Diamond Valley is an enticing encounter where the extremely under-rated DV are entering some unknown territory with the Vikes trying to regather their players, and season. Can the Vike hype be knocked off once again? Be careful!

Bulleen and Hawthorn both back it up at East Doncaster, where the benches will have something to say in this one with fatigue kicking in late. Nunawading and Eltham are the complete opposite when both sides only have the one game for the weekend. Remo Simankevicius was enormous last week and with the return of the Cassin's, they could start to make a run of things! Another top week in VYCM, let's see what it brings.

Hawthorn vs. Ringwood	Sat 5:30pm	The Rings
McKinnon vs. Dandenong	Sat 6pm	GESAC
Diamond Valley vs. Waverley	Sat 6pm	DV Sports & Fitness
Kilsyth vs. Bulleen	Sat 8pm	Kilsyth Sports Centre
Sherbrooke vs. Melbourne	Sat 8pm	Belgrave Christian Heights School
Blackburn vs. Diamond Valley	Sun 1pm	Knox Basketball Stadium
Bulleen vs. Hawthorn	Sun 1pm	East Doncaster Secondary College
Nunawading vs. Eltham	Sun 2pm	Nunawading Basketball Stadium
Melbourne vs. Sandringham	Sun 2pm	MSAC
Knox vs. Sherbrooke	Sun 2pm	State Basketball Centre

/BIGVBASKETBALL

@BIGV_BALL

@BIGV_BALL

@BBALLVIC