

There is one game Saturday night and it's the game we have been waiting for in YL1W, with the undefeated Warrandyte hosting number 2 team Corio Bay. What a game this will be, all you other YL1W teams if you haven't got anything on Saturday night get your butts out to Warrandyte to see what should be an epic battle between the two best teams in your division.

It is easy to see why Warrandyte is top with 3 of their starting 5 averaging 10 points or more per game, Simone Caruana is averaging 10.6ppg & 11.8rpg, Ellie Locke 13.7ppg & 4.1rpg and Isabel Feller 11.7ppg & 4rpg, but you can't rule out Corio Bay who have been getting better and better as the season progresses. What should now be a household name, Teagan Tatlock has been averaging a massive 18.4ppg & 7.1rpg, while sister Tahlia Tatlock coming from the bench still manages 11ppg & 4.2rpg and then there is Corio's captain Tamara Knox who puts out 12.7ppg & 8.7rpg, I could imagine they would be kicking themselves now for dropping that game by 2 points back in round 4 to Chelsea! Who is your tip to win? Can Corio knock Warrandyte off the undefeated perch and sit themselves equal first on the ladder?

Sunday kicks off with Camberwell playing Keilor, the dragons (6-2) dropped their second game for the season last week and will be wanting to get back into the winners circle quick smart while Keilor (3-5) are struggling to maintain consistency with 2 of their 3 wins being by 1pt and the only big win they had was on their home court against Craigieburn. Keilor will need all things to go in their favour if they want to improve their record.

McKinnon play host to Werribee this week at GESAC, Werribee (1-7) secured their spot on the bottom of the ladder last week going down to Craigieburn, which I'm sure they would not be happy about and will be looking to rectify this by stealing a win from the cougars. McKinnon have had a roller coaster season so far but seem to be stuck on the down-hill section losing their last 4 games, they will be looking to get out of this rut and get another notch in the win column.

Craigieburn head to Coburg to close out a small 4 game round 9, Craigieburn probably still celebrating their win last week definitely have their work cut out for them this week as they take on the likes of Lyndsey Hoogenhout who won April's player of the month averaging 14.2ppg & 16rpg & Siobhan Mac Aodha who is also stuffing the stats sheet every week is averaging 16.5ppg & 3rpg.

Both Geelong and Chelsea had a win last week and would probably rather be playing this week to keep the momentum but both get the weekend off in round 9.
